The single solution for all of your gun storage and transportation needs

About the Locked Stock & Barrel

With the flip of a switch gain access to your long gun

With the push of a button lock and secure it

Just one hand to insert or remove your long gun in a single, fluid motion

Multiple models and almost limitless mounting options to choose from

No adjustments needed to switch weapons

The models

Model 52

This unit accommodates weapons from 36" up to 52" without any adjustments

Weapons between 28" and 36" or ones such as an AR style rifle with stock collapsed can be secured, stored and transported by sliding the buttstock holder up the body

The MSR

This rack was designed with the modern sporting rifle in mind. A standard AR with 16" barrel and collapsed stock has a typical overall length of 33". To allow full security without adjustments as well as the ability to fit almost every long gun manufactured such as a target rifle with 26" barrel or a turkey shotgun with extended choke.

The Rack

No security, just storage and display, no locking mechanism or lock, just a telescoping tube with the muzzle cup and buttstock holder and wall clamps for storing or displaying a firearm without the fear of it being tipped. Fits firearms up to 52" OAL.

Note: Not intended to be used for transporting firearms

Security options

Standard security - Keeping the honest, honest and the curious safe

This model offers a high security lock and design and components that will not allow a weapon to be removed without cutting or destruction. Hidden fasteners to prevent removal of the firearm or Locked Stock & Barrel with tools

Mid security - Deter the more determined

For the firearm owner that wants additional theft prevention this model has a steel reinforced clamp bridge, an innovative installation method with hardware that cannot be removed as well as a stainless steel reinforced buttstock holder
